

Mile High Angus Show

Angus cattle and exhibitors reach new heights at the 1990 National Western Stock Show.

Pack five carloads, 12 pens, 29 sale lots and 84 show entries of Angus bulls; 163 show entries of Angus females; 14 entries of junior Angus females; more than 200 exhibitors and a capacity crowd of Angus enthusiasts into one location over a three-day period and what have you got?

What else but the National Western Stock Show in Denver.

The 1990 Stock Show Angus events, held Jan. 11-13, did pack them in this year. American Angus Association officials reported that it was the best show—in terms of entries, crowd size and bull sale bids—in recent history.

There were old and familiar faces, along with new faces, at the Stock Show. Back in the winner's circle at the Carload Show was Ankony Shadow Isle Ranch of Minatare, Neb. Their carload of eight Nelson Bold Ruler-, Ankonian Metro- and Ankonian Warrior-sired bulls took home the top prize. The bulls had an average weight of 1,934 pounds, 2.8-pound WDA, 6.5 frame and average age of 690 days.

Champion Pen of Three Bulls went to Frey Angus Ranch of Granville, N.D. Frey's bulls, sired by Brost Dan Patch and Grubbs MacKenzie, had an average weight of 1,105 pounds, 3.8-pound WDA, 7.2 frame and average age of 291 days.

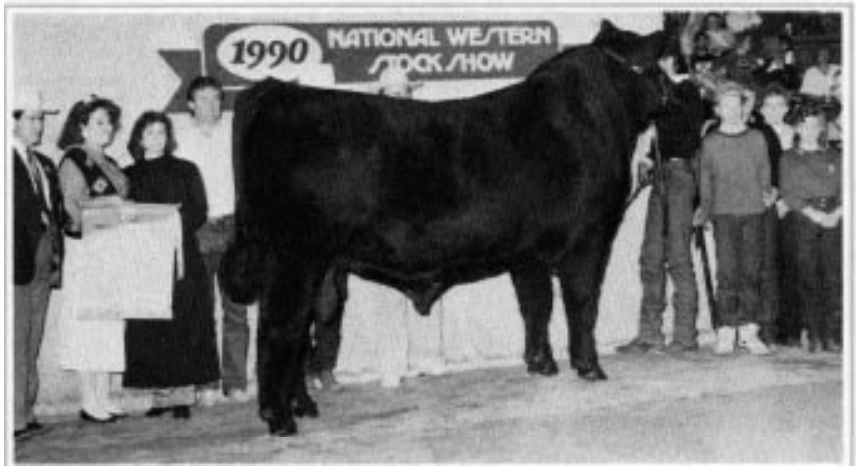

There was excitement in the National Western sale ring on Jan. 12 when 29 lots of top Angus bulls sold for an average price of $6,150, for a total of $178,350. One-half interest and full possession in the bull, Ankonian Asteroid, sold for $42,000 to Meng Farms Inc. of Bowling Green, Ky. This SCR Lone Star 411-sired bull from Ankony Shadow Isle Ranch was earlier named grand champion sale bull by a five-man judging committee. The new judging system, tried for the first time at the Stock Show, had good response from judges and exhibitors.

"It's a good system," said judge George Marcy of Hay Springs, Neb. "I was really surprised how much we all agreed on the class placings."

Dave Nordin, judge from Prattville,

*ROV grand and intermediate champion female, Magnum Unique 2.

*ROV grand and senior champion bull, LLB Gambler 22W.

Ala., said this system was new to him, but it was an interesting perspective.

Both judges said they found the muscle, volume and structural correctness they were looking for in the top bull selections. "I believe Angus breeders are headed in the right direction," Nordin says.

Whitstone-Krebs of Gordon, Neb. and the popular sire, SCR Lone Star 411, became familiar names by the end of the ROV Angus show, held Jan. 13. Whitstone-Krebs took home grand champion female, bull and get-of-sire honors at the National Western ROV Angus Show.

Ty Krebs exhibited the grand champion female, Magnum Unique 2. This May 1988, SCR Lone Star 411-sired heifer is co-owned by Goshen Farm, Paris, Ky., and Irish Oaks Farm, Metamora, Mich.

In the bull show, Eldon Krebs led LLB Gambler 22W an April 1987 bull sired by SCR Lone Star 411, to the grand championship. Co-owner of this bull is Lee Brown of Erskine, Alta, Can., and Yadkin River Ranch, Clemons, S.C. Whitstone-Krebs' get-of-sire winning entry was also progeny of SCR Lone Star 411. This bull is owned by Weaver Angus, Peoria, Ill. and Hartley Angus Ranch, Stephenville, Texas.

Foundation Heifer sells for $13,500

An overflow crowd at the National Western Sale watched as this year's Angus Foundation heifer was auctioned off for $13,500. Hoff Miss Hi Spade SC 782, a February '89 daughter of Hoff Hi Spa & SC 491 donated by Hoff's Scotch Cap Angus Ranch in Bison, S.D., was purchased by 21st Century Genetics of Shawano, Wis. The heifer was part of a package deal that included embryo transfers services, insurance coverage, free transportation and four units of semen and two A.I. certificates from 13 top Angus bulls. All of the money will go to help fund the National Junior Angus Association Board and activities.
