This is our home

There's a place that everyone calls home. A place of brutal winters, hostile summers. From dawn till dusk.

A place where every rhyme has a reason,
And we do it season after season.

A home with no borders.
From western plains to the stockyards
of the mile-high trains...

A place of youthfulness,
Fueled by the wisdom of revolutionists.

We are painters of innovation.

We are rule-breakers for future generations.
We are storytellers of rarity.
We are ranchers that study.
Businessmen and women that calculate.
Laborers that execute.
The proof of hard work is written on our boots.

A home where we dream and we chase.
Deciding factors are guided by our faith.

A place where one letter and one hand can create the world's largest beef brand.

A home of observable power, with distinction and respect.

Simply put, our home is better than the rest. AJ
