Ingram Angus LLC of Pulaski, Tenn., purchased the Angus Foundation Heifer Package, donated by Coleman Angus of Charlo, Mont., raising $130,000 to continue the legacy of the Angus breed. The package sold at the start of the National Angus Bull Sale Jan. 6 during Cattlemen's Congress in Oklahoma City.

The donated bred heifer, Coleman Chloe 173 (AAA+*20076459), is the Coleman Chloe female in the ranch's herd with the highest maternal weaned calf value ($M), with a pedigree composed of the operation's most notable cow families. She is due to calve to Coleman Full Deck 118 Jan. 20.

The offering also included an Advanced Reproductive Technology Package from Trans Ova Genetics, trucking to the buyer donated by Lathrop Livestock Services and 30 days of mortality insurance donated by Liberty Specialty Markets.

"We couldn't be more thankful for the generosity of the Coleman, Haag and Ingram families," says Jaclyn Boester, Angus Foundation executive director. "The Colemans brought us an outstanding female to offer, and coupled with the Ingrams' generosity, the tradition of the [Angus] Foundation Heifer Package continues to pave a bright future for the Angus breed."

Coleman Angus is a family operation who prides themselves in placing emphasis on the power of the Angus cow. Through meticulous selection for maternal traits, they have grown a loyal base of customers who value their herd's genetics. The ranch hosts an annual bull sale in February, offering between 175 to 200 bulls, and hosts a female sale each year in October.

Funds raised will benefit the Angus Fund, which provides unrestricted dollars to further the Angus

Foundation's mission of education, youth and research. The Angus Foundation supports a diverse set of efforts focused on ensuring a bright future for the breed. Academic scholarships, leadership conferences and cutting-edge research are among the many programs sustained by the Angus Fund.

The Angus Foundation Heifer Package has raised more than $2.7 million since the inception of the program in 1980. For more information about the Angus Foundation or the annual Angus Foundation Heifer Package Sale, visit www.angusfoundation.org.
