Phenotype-genotype show

National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) members will have another avenue of competition at the 2018 Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show (ERJAS) June 14-16 in Lima, Ohio. The Phenotype and Genotype Show (PGS) creates an additional competitive opportunity while helping junior members learn the value of expected progeny differences (EPDs).

The judge will analyze EPDs and place classes prior to the show. On show day, the PGS will function similar to other NJAA-sponsored shows, with the judge placing the classes on phenotype. The phenotype placings will be compiled with the genotype placings for a composite score weighting the two equally. Ties will be broken based on the phenotype placings.

To enter in the PGS, visit angus.org/njaa to enter online while entering for the ERJAS. All individuals must be DNA-profiled prior to the entry deadline in order to participate. Animals can be profiled with any of the available platforms.

For more information, contact the Events and Education Department at 816-383-5100. Rules are available at <https://www.angus.org/njaa/entrybook/2018/PGS-ONLINE-Specific-Show-Rules.pdf>.
