

ANGUS JOURNAL

JUNE
2018

- 12 Angus Stakes
- 16 The Front Gate
- 18 Angus Staff
- 81 Advertising Rates
- 121 Regional Managers
- 126 Angus Almanac
- 134 Advertiser's Index

COW HERD INSURANCE

Trich-testing bulls adds confidence for buyer and seller.

20

PREPARING FOR FMD

While no one wants to encounter foot-and-mouth disease, a U.S. response plan is in place should an outbreak occur.

28

34 By the Numbers

36 Veterinary Call

38 Angus Advisor

42 Performance Report

46 It Starts with the Calf

50 Breakthrough

54 Sale Summary

YOUR HERD

JUNE

YOUR BUSINESS

DIRECTING TRAFFIC

“Some people think low-stress handling means doing it with no pressure. Not true,” says cattle handling expert Ron Gill. “It’s all about pressure, but it’s about applying the right pressure at the right time.”

44

WORKING YOUNG CALVES

For better or worse, the first interaction with an animal starts its training. Cattlemen teach calves how to respond to them.

48

HALL OF FAME SERVICE

Association Regional Manager David Gazda was recently inducted into the Georgia Angus Hall of Fame, recognizing his contributions to the beef industry, locally and nationally.

60

YOUR ASSOCIATION

63 Membership Tips

64 Association Highlights

74 Auxiliary Notes

78 Roll of Victory Shows

82 Junior Shows

YOUR LIFE

85 What’s Cooking

89 2018 Colvin Scholarships Winners

91 Next Generation

95 Newsmakers