

Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show

Harrisonburg, Va., June 16-17

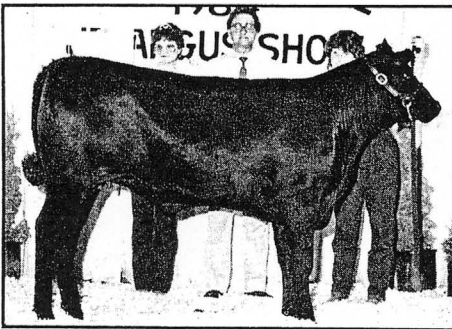

Hosting Virginia breeders welcomed junior exhibitors, families and friends from 16 states to the Rockingham County Fairgrounds for the Eastern Regional. Their enthusiasm, coupled with excellent facilities and a break from the East's early summer heat wave, pulled in a full house crowd and culminated in an enjoyable event. Steve Weaver, Peoria, Ill., lined up the 203 heifers, bulls and pairs.

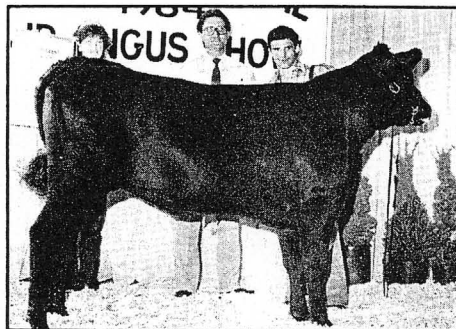

Champion heifer at the Eastern Regional Junior Show in Harrisonburg was Summitcrest Miss Angus R003, owned by Victoria Johnson, Summitville, Ohio. Judge Steve Weaver, Peoria, Ill., first awarded this heifer the junior champion title.

Reserve junior champion, Premier Super Eline, won reserve champion heifer honors for Heather Lamond, Bluemont, at the Eastern Regional Junior Show. A total of 203 Angus were exhibited.

Fritz Frey, Quarryville, Pa., exhibited the reserve champion bred-and-owned heifer TOF Friskys Pride 1273.

John Mrotek, Brightwood, Va., advisor to the hosting junior group, collected tickets for the dinner and dance as well as coordinating much of the pre-show work.

South Carolina juniors claimed top honors in the state banner competition with this colorful creation.

Elizabeth Cohron, Virginia's Angus queen, chose the winning names in a semen draw sponsored by Dennis Byrne (left). Dennis donated semen from several top sires featured by his Angus Semen Services.

A special feature of this event was "Bull Alley" and the associated "Bull Walk." Area breeders brought in their leading herd sires and set up attractive displays near the ring; the evening before the show they paraded the bulls.
