TULSA

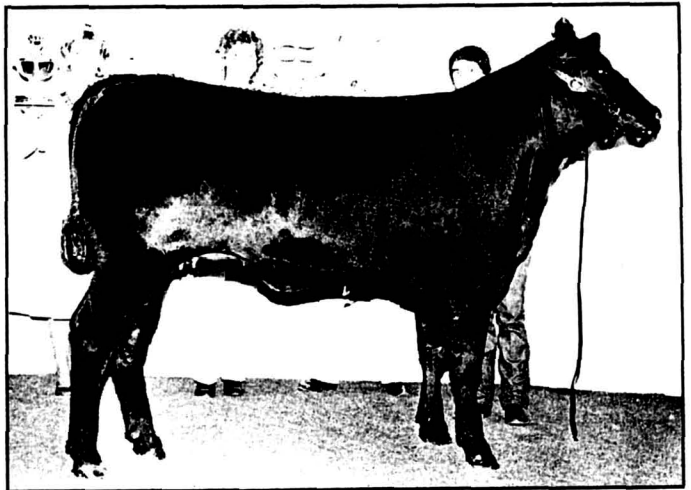

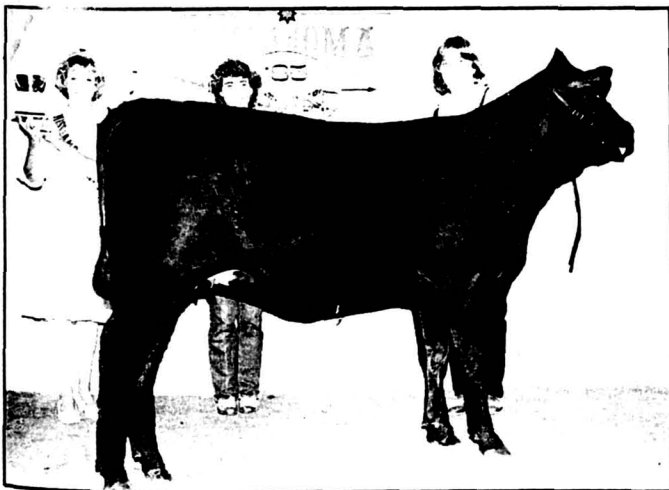

What better fellowship than at a show? The National Junior Angus Show is a much-looked-for event by Juniors and their families each year. And 1985 was no exception.

Even the Oklahoma heat could not put a damper on the enthusiasm that prevailed during this week in Tulsa. A short, four days provided a full schedule of contests, meetings and elections, Angus Olympics, a beef cook-off, tours and an ever-exciting 497-head show.

Mary Ellen Shaw, West Bend, Wis., was elected chairman of the NJAA board for the coming year, the registered Angus steer show continued in its second year of growth with 47 head shown and Tim Fitzgerald of Harrison, Neb., won the National Junior Showmanship Contest.

HF Duchess 451 was crowned champion owned heifer for her proud owner Susan Moxley, West Friendship, Md. Duchess is a May yearling by QLC Winchester and had walked away with the Eastern Regional Junior Heifer Show title just two weeks prior to Tulsa. She started her career in Denver this year and won the spring heifer calf division championship.

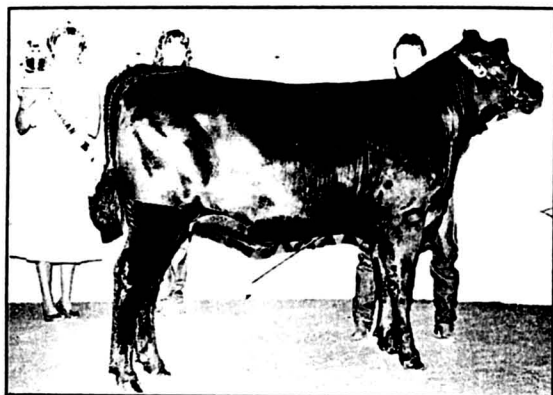

Champion honors in the owned heifer show went to HF Duchess 451. Susan Moxley, West Friendship, Md., first showed this daughter of QLC Winchester to the intermediate championship.

Ryan Cotton, Howell, Mich., led Premier Venus to championship honors in the bred-and-owned heifer class. This Premier Independence KN daughter had earlier been slapped junior champion.

Earning reserve championship and reserve intermediate championship in the owned division was E&W Dolly. Stacia Ellis, Greentown, Ind., exhibited this Greenbrae Chairman daughter.

4B Big Sky Sophia, a Pine Drive Big Sky daughter, earned both reserve bred-and-owned and reserve junior championship titles for exhibitor Jody Brisbin of Longmont, Colo.

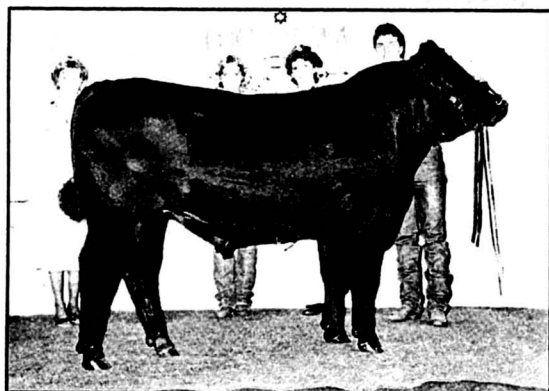

Another regional junior show winner was right behind Duchess all the way and that was E&W Dolly, the reserve intermediate and reserve champion female. Dolly is a June 1984 Greenbrae Chairman daughter and is owned by Stacia Ellis, Greentown, Ind. Dolly won the Western National Angus Futurity Junior Regional Show in April.

Amy Ostrum, Loganville, Ga., led Prince of Shiloh to championship honors in the bred-and-owned bull competition. This Fairfield Hi Guy son had first been named junior champion.

Ryan Cotton, Howell, Mich., led his bred-and-owned entry Premier Venus, to that division's highest honor. This January 1984 Premier Independence KN daughter was first named junior champion.

The Brisbir's from Colorado did quite well with their bred-and-owned entries including showing the reserve champion bred-and-owned heifer. 4B Big Sky Sophia, a Pine Drive Big Sky daughter earned her title for owner Jody Brisbin of Longmont, Colo.

Omegan Domino was named reserve champion bred-and-owned bull for owner Clifford Simmons II, Williamston, Mich. This Fairfield Hi Guy son had first been named reserve junior champion.

The bred-and-owned bull show boasted of 32 entries—up from last year's 28—and were paraded in front of judge Joe Bill Meng of Bowling Green, Ky. Amy Ostrum of Loganville, Ga., showed Prince of Shiloh to champion honors and Clifford Simmons II, Williamston, Mich., led Omegan Domino to the reserve position.

The "Okies" certainly did a class job of hosting the National Junior Show—the only problem was that it ended all too soon. Congratulations and thank you to all juniors, their families and the breeders and businesses that attended and supported this show.

Illinois juniors again earned the first place trophy with this lineup in the group-of-five competition. California juniors (also again) were second.

Junior Advisors of the Year J.V. and Helen Heyser

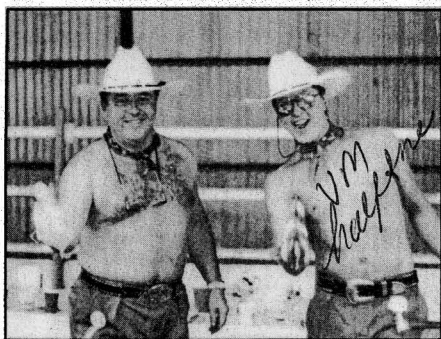

J.V. and Helen Heyser of Cisco, Texas, founded the Texas Junior Angus Assn. 15 years ago. Through their enthusiastic promotion, support, and advice, the Texas Junior Angus Assn. has grown to be the second largest in the nation with over 500 members.

The Heyers' 20-year-old love affair with the Angus breed is quite an accomplishment. J.V. has served 10 years on the Texas board of directors as president, vice president and treasurer, while Helen has been active with the Angus Auxiliary. But even more outstanding is the service to the youth of Texas.

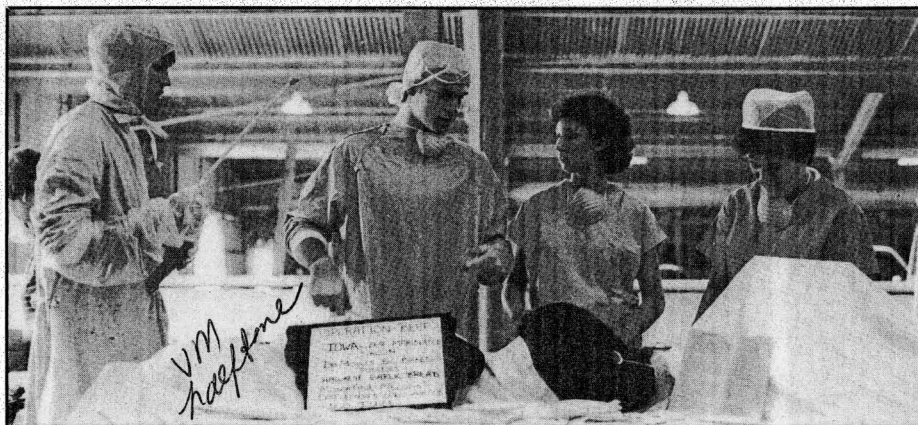

For 15 years, this couple has worked beside hundreds of Texas youth, arranging heifer sales, organizing field days, as well as hosting a regional and a National Junior Angus Show.

They continued with their support long after their four children outgrew the Junior association. For their enthusiasm, advice and hard work, the Angus industry salutes J.V. and Helen Heyser.

Presenting a framed portrait to J.V. and Helen is Mark Wyble, junior activities director of the American Angus Assn.

The East, West, North and South parts of the United States were represented at the 19th National Junior Angus Showmanship Contest. A total of 60 young Angus showmen from 32 states took part in this prestigious event.

The top five finalists alone represented the states of Nebraska, California, Oregon, Louisiana and Pennsylvania.

Named the top showman of the contest was 18-year-old Tim Fitzgerald of Harrison, Neb. By winning this coveted title, Tim received $350 and an engraved silver Revere bowl, presented by the American Angus Auxiliary.

The cash prizes awarded to the top five finalists were on behalf of the Tim was presented a silver Revere bowl by Nellie Meinders, American Angus Auxiliary president; a check for $350 from Jim Rentz (left), Coldwater, Ohio, on behalf of the Hamilton James Memorial Fund; and a show stick from H.L. Moss, Tulsa, of Green Country Animal Clipper Service. Moss presented the top five showmanship finalists with show sticks, and a set of clippers to the champions and reserves of the owned and bred-and-owned heifers, bred-and-owned bulls and steer division.

THE TOP FIVE were, from left: Tim Fitzgerald, first; Maddi Watje, Salinas, Calif., second; Doug Knox, Rainier, Ore., third; Jo Ann Landry, Jeanerette, La., fourth; and Jan Waltz, Manheim, Pa., fifth.

Dr. Miles McKee of Kansas State University was the featured speaker at the breakfast.

The second steer show of the National Junior Angus Show proved to be a growing success as 47 head turned out for the 1985 show. An optional carcass contest was also part of the show and had 20 entries.

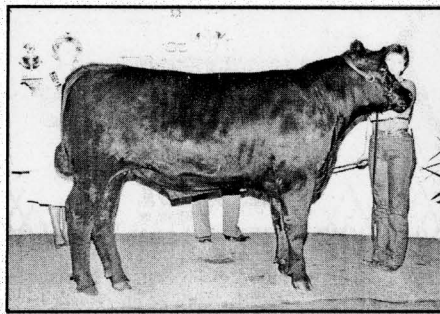

Sheri Rentz, Coldwater, Ohio, emerged as the overall winner. Her steer, Creek Side Biltmore, stood first in class and fifth in the carcass contest. He is a June 1984 Pine Drive Big Sky son and weighed 1,100 lb.; had a WDA of 2.72 lb.; a hot carcass weight of 666 lb.; graded low choice; and had a 2.4 yield grade.

The final placings in the carcass division were determined by using a 50 percent carcass placing index and a 50 percent on-hoof placing index. Dr. Fred Ray and his staff at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, judged the carcasses.

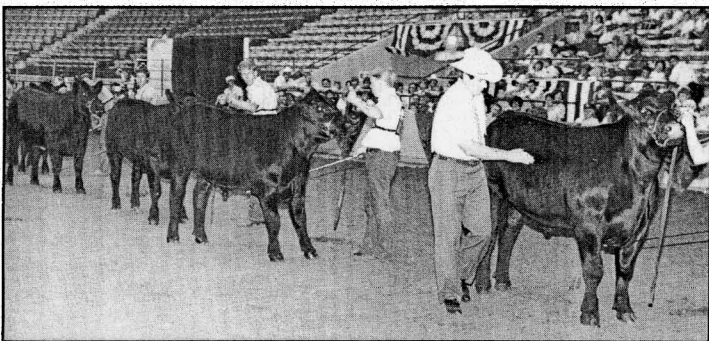

AJ

Andy Kapp, Clarksdale, Mo., showed the champion steer, Kapps Poncho, of the Registered Steer Show. This steer was fourth overall with the combined placings of the live steer show and the carcass contest.

The reserve champion steer of the on-hoof show was Premier Citation, shown by Angela Smith Dick, Russell Springs, Ky. Premier Citation weighed 1,270 lb.; had a WDA of 2.46 lb.; and was sired by Premier Independence KN.

Bob Kropp worked over 47 steers in the on-hoof evaluation.
