BIG MOMENTS

by Megan Silveira, assistant editor

People were packed tightly into the grandstands, sitting shoulder to shoulder to watch the next generation of the beef industry exhibit quality stock at the National Junior Angus Show (NJAS). While big names, big crowds and big awards were a highlight of the biggest show on dirt, it's the big moments that matter most.

National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) members know this better than anyone, and they know that photography has the power to capture those moments. With this year's annual Angus Journal/NJAA Photography Contest, up and coming Angus breeders were able to showcase their ability to capture big moments.

BIG MOMENTS, BIGGER EMOTIONS

Photos by NJAA members voted fan favorites.

by Megan Silveira, assistant editor

Moments are measured by the emotion they evoke in people. The Facebook followers of the

1st Overall; Junior Division, At the Farm or Ranch; "Bin There," Lindsey Grim, Pa.

2nd Overall; Intermediate Division, People; "One Nation Under God," Madison Bowen, Pa.

3rd Overall; Intermediate Division, Cattle; "Game Face," Madison Bowen, Pa.

4th Overall, Intermediate Division, Cattle; "Up Close and Personal," Jenna Hetzel, Minn.
