

Scholarship & Contest

Winners Announced

Top senior speaker, Jesse McCurry, says the Angus breed is the Michael Jordan of beef.

Quiz bowl contestants race to buzz in.

From one Scarlett to another, Parting NJAA Director Brent congratulates his sister, Julie, on her election.

National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) members found more than one way to "Hoop it Up" in Indianapolis July 20-25 during the 1998 National Junior Angus Show (NJAS).

The NJAA each year at the NJAS recognizes Angus enthusiasts who have supported junior Angus activities and Angus youth, naming an Advisor of the Year and Honorary Angus Foundation inductees.

Angus youth from 35 states participated in 10 contests outside the show ring. Results from the various contests conducted throughout the week were announced at the awards banquet Friday evening. Also highlighting the evening was the announcement of the new Angus Foundation scholarship recipients and several other scholarship awards.

Capping off the night was the introduction of the 1998-99 NJAA Board of Directors.

NJAA members receiving the $1,000 Angus Foundation scholarships (pictured front row, l to r) are Julie Rowland, Camarillo, Ky.; Robert Johnson,

Tompkinsville, Ky.; (middle row, l to r) Anne Schmalenberger, Vincent, Iowa; Betsie Ebert, Lexington, N.C.; Rhonda Nida, Red Rock, Okla.; Kami Krebs, Gordon, Neb.; Sara Schmalenberger, Vincent, Iowa; Diana Covell, Frederick, Md.; Jamie Meyer, Douglass, Kan.; (back row, l to r) Charles Krinninger III, Charlestown, Ind.; Laurie Rueber, Arlington, Iowa; Garrett Pohlman, Norfolk, and Jesse McCurry, Sedgwick, Kan. Recipients not pictured are Andrea Earhart, Powell, Wyo.; and Robin McCall, Waterford, Va.

Members of the Kansas Junior Angus Association won the sweepstakes contest. This award is based on leadership, participation in educational activities and contests held throughout the week.

Betsie Ebert, left, was honored with the Outstanding Leadership Award. The Outstanding Leadership Award was initiated in 1994 in memory of Barbara Smalship and her support of the NJAA. It was designed to recognize an outstanding NJAA member each year. Pictured presenting the award is Andrew D. Howell, NJAA Director.

Miranda Grisson, Prague, Okla., right, was named the 1998 winner of the Certified Angus Beef Program/National Junior Angus Association scholarship. Pictured presenting the award is NJAA Director Moriah Olson.

Junior Angus members placing in the top 10 in the computer cow-calf game (pictured 1 to 4, with Jarrod Gillig, NJAA Director) are James Grogan, Cincinnati, Ohio, first; and Oeanna Hartzell, Shawano, Wis., sixth.

Moriah Olson, Harford, Texas, left, and Janelle Sommers, Silver Lake, Ind., right, were awarded the two $2,500 Angus Foundation scholarships.

Moriah Olson, right, was honored with the High Field Angus/Boomer Esiason Foundation Scholarship. Pictured presenting the award is Aaron Trowbridge, manager of High Field Farms, Clinton Comers, N. Y.

Don & Pam Snepp, Edinburg, Ind., were named advisors of the year. Pictured (1 to 4, at the awards presentation) are Janelle Sommers, NJAA Director; Don; Pam; and Jarrod Gillig, NJAA Director.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 103

1998 National Junior Angus Show

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 90

Best state herdsmanship — 15 head or less
Minnesota Junior Angus Association

Best state herdsmanship — 16-35 head
Georgia Junior Angus Association

Best state herdsmanship — 36 head or more
North Carolina Junior Angus Association

Missouri Juniors win top scrapbook.

North Carolina Juniors Josh Tennant, Karl Moishouser, Vickie Linville and Jennifer Stamey took first in the senior quiz bowl contest.

Iowa Juniors Bridget Driscoll, Cody Sullivan, Katie Jensen and Denise Leonard took top honors in the junior quiz bowl contest.

Kansas Junior Angus Association members took top honors in the junior division team sales contest. Team members (pictured l to r) are Emily McCurry, Burrton; Garrett Lampe, Scott City; and Coye Crenshaw-Kleve, Manhattan.

Kansas Junior Angus Association members placed first in the intermediate division team sales contest. Team members (pictured l to r) are John McCurry, Burrton; Benjamin Winsor, Grantville; and Joana Sankey, Council Grove.

Kansas Junior Angus Association members placed first in the senior division team sales contest. Team members (pictured l to r) are Jamie Meyer, Douglass; Cody Sankey, Council Grove; and Mark Perrier, Eureka.

Winners in the junior division extemporaneous public speaking contest (pictured l to r) are Chelsey Warfield, Andersonville, Tenn., first; Garrett Lampe, Scott City, Kan., second; and Kirby Schnoor, Chowchilla, Calif., third.

Winners in the intermediate division extemporaneous public speaking contest (pictured l to r) are Abbe Price, Decatur, Ark., first; and Heather Hopper, Leonardville, Kan., second.

Winners in the senior division extemporaneous public speaking contest (pictured l to r) are Jamie Meyer, Douglass, Kan., second; and Cindy Perret, Edgard, La., first.

1998 National Junior Angus Show

Winning top honors over all categories in the poster contest (pictured l to r) are Kami Krebs, Gordon, Neb., senior division; Emily Hartzell, Shawano, Wis., intermediate division; and Clayton Lampe, Scott City, Kan. junior division.

POSTER CONTEST

Junior division

Breed or Association promotion

First: Joshua Delaney, Gordon, Neb.
Second: Clayton Lampe, Scott City, Kan.

Membership recruitment

First (tie): Emma Collins, Forest, Miss.
Kayla Gunn, Tiplersville, Miss.

Herd advertisement

First: Clayton Lampe
Second: Billy Lewis, Walstonburg, N.C.

Intermediate division

Breed or Association promotion

First: Jessica Scrimger, Clifford, Mich.
Second: Sharita Sing, Meeker, Okla.

Membership recruitment

First: Emily Hartzell, Shawano, Wis.
Second: Ryan Sweeney, Mason, Mich.

Herd advertisement

First: Jamie King, Tiffin, Ohio
Second: John Tigner, Mantachie, Miss.

Senior division

Breed Association promotion

First: Vickie Linville, Madison, N.C.
Second: Kami Krebs, Gordon, Neb.

Membership recruitment

First: Kami Krebs
Second: Vickie Linville

Herd advertisement

First: Vickie Linville
Second: John Erwin Jr., New Milton, W.Va.

The NJAA honored the late Nettie Eitel, Kirksville, Mo., as a posthumous inductee of the Honorary Angus Foundation. Following Nettie's death on Feb. 2, 1997, she willed the family farm to the Angus Foundation. Pictured (l to r at the awards presentation) are Jarrold Gillig, NJAA Director; Wayne Smith, Winigan, Mo.; Kenneth Eitel, Greencastle, Mo.; Barbara Eitel, Greencastle, Mo.; and Brent Scarlett, NJAA Director. Also inducted into the Honorary Angus Foundation, but not present at the NJAS, were J. V. & Helen Heyser, Cisco, Texas. The Heyzers began the Texas Junior Angus Association 28 years ago and served as advisors for 14 years.

Robert & Virginia Weaver, Peoria, Ill., were presented the Honorary Angus Foundation award. Individuals are selected for the award based on their service, dedication and involvement in the NJAA. The Weavers sponsored the first Illinois Angus Field Day and have donated two heifers to support the Illinois Junior Angus Association. Pictured (l to r, at the awards presentation) are Rhonda Nida, NJAA Director; Virginia; Bob; and Dru Uden, NJAA Director.

