■ Calgary Stampede Supreme Beef Cattle Competition, Calgary, Alberta, Canada

The Angus breed topped all beef breeds in the Calgary Stampede Supreme Beef Cattle Competition July 16. It was the second consecutive year Angus swept the competition.

ACN DMM Dynasty 15J, a yearling bull owned by Dawn and Lee Wilson, Bashaw, Alberta, was selected the top beef bull at the Stampede. The win earned the Wilsons a $10,000 (Canadian $) check in addition to the championship belt buckle and banner. The bull had earlier been named grand champion bull in the Angus breed show.

Duralta 14C Echo 32E, by Hamilton Farms, Continental Angus and Gordon Atkins, all of Calgary, also won $10,000 for the supreme honor. The 5-year-old entry earlier won grand champion female in the Angus breed show.

Nineteen beef breed champions vied for the 11th annual supreme champion title in both the bull and female categories. Judging the bulls and females was a panel of beef industry personalities, including Wayne Burgess, Airdrie; Marvin Vaage, Champion; Marty Hertz, Duchess; Jay Davis, Acme; Howard Hixt, Beiseker; Jack St. Arnaud, Vimy; and Brett Walters, Calgary.

The champions from this event are now eligible to compete in the Beef Supreme Challenge Nov. 26 at the Canadian Western Agribition in Regina.
