IN THE NEWS

Jack Ward, Plattsburg, Mo., is the 2008 winner of the Black Hawk College–East Campus (BHE) Agri-Business Club Alumni (ABCA) Outstanding Ag Alumni Award. Ward is the American Hereford Association (AHA) chief operating officer (COO) and director of breed improvement.

A graduate of Benton-Central High School in Indiana, Ward enrolled at BHE and received his associate's degree in ag transfer in 1984. At BHE he was an active member of the Agri-Business Club and the livestock judging team. He graduated from Purdue University with a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics.

Prior to working for AHA in 2003, he managed several prominent purebred Angus herds: Maple Lane Angus, LaGrange, Ind.; Three Rivers Angus, Roanoke, Ind.; and Hicks and Yearly Angus, Midway, Ky.

Throughout the United States, as well as in Canada, Argentina and Uruguay, Ward is well-respected as a livestock judge, particularly of purebred cattle. He was named Outstanding Breeder by the Indiana Angus Association and has served as president of that organization. In addition, he has been recognized with the BHE Agriculture Merit Award for outstanding service in the training of young people for careers in agriculture.

Ward, his wife, Mary Ann, and their two sons, Cameron and Carter, enjoy showing livestock at state and national shows. He is a member of the Beef Improvement Federation (BIF) Board of Directors, Missouri Beef Cattle Association, American Angus Association, National Cattlemen's Beef Association (NCBA) and serves on the executive committee for the All-American Angus Breeders' Futurity. Ward is also a lifetime member of the BHE Agri-Business Club and a member of Saint Ann's Catholic Church, Knights of Columbus and Purdue Ag Alumni.
