Look for delegate petitions in the mail

Preparations are being made for the 2015 Annual Convention of Delegates this November in Overland Park, Kan. Forms to nominate delegates to the Annual Meeting will be mailed to every active life and regular Association member during the last week of March.

The nomination period is April 1-June 30. Each member is allowed to nominate one eligible active life or regular member who resides in the same state or district, including himself or herself. The candidate should be highly involved in the Angus business, willing to attend the meeting and able to represent Angus breeders.

Signed nomination forms must be received in the Association office no later than 4:30 p.m. Central Daylight Time (CDT) June 30, at which time every qualified nominee will be included on a state ballot. State ballots will be mailed to the membership in July to vote for the final slate of state delegates. When you receive the petition, please return it promptly.

Report new association, auxiliary officers

State and regional Angus associations should submit their officer listings to the Association by May 1 to ensure correct listings on www.angus.org. Listings will include association name, current officers, contact information and website, if applicable. If you haven't received a form to update your association's officer listing, contact Amber Wahlgren or Lea Ann Maudlin at 816-383-5100 or prphotos@angus.org.

State auxiliary information is requested in the same mailing. Please be sure to complete both forms and return them in a timely manner.

AGI seeking intern candidates

Angus Genetics Inc. (AGI) is seeking a summer intern to assist with day-to-day activities of the department from mid-May through mid-August. The intern's primary responsibility will be growing the MaternalPlus® program, including development of promotional and educational materials.

Applicants should be college juniors or seniors studying animal science, ag communications or a related field with an interest in genetics applied to beef cattle production and/or animal breeding. Graduate students will also be considered. Candidates should be detail-oriented, have strong communications skills and be able to work well with all types of personnel.

Submit applications — including cover letter, résumé and references — to Tonya Amen, Genetic Service Director, Angus Cattle must be checked in by noon Friday, April 17. Randy Daniel of Colbert, Ga., will judge the junior regional on Saturday. Jack Ward of Plattsburgh, Mo., will evaluate the WNAF open classes on Sunday. Other activities include the Western States queen competition, junior showmanship contest, educational program, junior social, WNAF Committee meeting, and both board and general membership meetings of the Western States Angus Association.

Download foot-scoring spreadsheet

American Angus Association members can now download a spreadsheet to submit foot scores via their AAA Login account. To download the spreadsheets in AAA Login, click the "Spreadsheet Entry" tab. From that menu select the "Foot Score Spreadsheet." Click the "Instructions" link for step-by-step procedures explaining how to select a group of animals, download the Excel spreadsheet, fill it out and return it to the Association for processing. The instructions also provide a description of phenotypes warranting each score, links to Angus Journal stories explaining the process of foot-scoring and links to other pertinent information.

Data collected will be compiled in a data set that could lay the foundation of a genetic prediction tool for foot structure and soundness. Additional educational tools will be available soon. For more information, contact Dan Moser, AGI president, at dmoser@angus.org or Tonya Amen, AGI genetic service director, at tamen@angus.org.

Online registration open for BIF Symposium

Online registration is now available at <http://beefimprovement.org/library/registration-info> for the 2015 Beef Improvement Federation Symposium (BIF) and Convention. The annual event is scheduled for June 9-12 in Biloxi, Miss. Mississippi State University and the Mississippi Extension Service will host the event at the Beau Rivage Casino and Hotel in Biloxi. Rebuilding the cow herd and female selection will be core themes of this year's event.

A schedule, along with hotel and travel information, is available at www.bifconference.com, the Angus Journal's online coverage site for the event.

Watch for DMI information

Association members should notice another expected progeny difference (EPD) on their registration papers and various reports provided by the American Angus Association. We've noted how the Association has enhanced its dollar value indexes ($Values) by including an EPD for feed intake in calculations for feed value ($F) and beef value ($B).

The feed intake EPD, reported in pounds of dry matter per day, had been calculated behind the scenes as a component of the residual average daily gain (RADG) EPD. It is supported by both feed-intake data and genomic profile information.

Producers requested that a DMI EPD be reported, as well, so they could dig deeper into what factors affect the broader index values. The Association is responding to that request, making the EPD available on performance documents.

For more information, contact Moser or Amen.

Foundation scholarship applications available

The Angus Foundation will award a number of undergraduate and graduate scholarships this year. Scholarship recipients will be recognized at the 2015 National Junior Angus Show (NJAS) in Tulsa, Okla.

The eligibility requirements for these general Angus Foundation scholarships remain the same. Angus youth who are graduating from high school or in college currently may also be eligible for other Angus-related scholarships that are permanently endowed and managed by the Angus Foundation.

The Foundation will also make available graduate student scholarships to young men and women actively involved in the Angus breed who are pursuing advanced degrees.

Applicants must have, at one time, been a National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) member and must currently be a junior, regular or life member of the Association. Strong preference and priority will be given to applicants pursuing advanced degrees related closely to the beef industry.

New initiative to engage future cattle producers

Applications are now available online (<http://www.angus.org/Performance/Documents/FASEnrollmentForm.pdf>) to enroll in the program. The Association launched the Future Angus Stockmen program to embrace the next generation of cattlemen through learning opportunities, while building a bond with the Angus breed and its member-driven organization.

The program is aimed toward college-age or recent graduates who want to raise high-quality Angus-based cattle. The program will offer educational opportunities that teach participants how to thrive in the cattle industry, social networking to connect them with fellow producers, and leadership development to instill an entrepreneurial spirit and drive to improve their businesses.

Participants will learn how to use proven information such as EPDs and $Values, while incorporating DNA technology to make data-driven decisions. Additional program benefits include enrollment in either AngusSource® or AngusSource Genetic, and access to Beef Record Service (BRS) or MaternalPlus® at a reduced cost for submitting data.

Young people who enroll in the program will have the chance to apply for scholarships if they are or will be enrolled in a two- or four-year college majoring in agriculture. Scholarship winners will be announced at the 2015 National Angus Convention & Trade Show Nov. 3-5, 2015, in Overland Park, Kan.

For more information, contact Ginette Kurtz, director of commercial programs at 816-383-5100 or gkurtz@angus.org.

The Angus Foundation Board of Directors approved funds to provide $1,000 scholarships to three youth who use Angus genetics in their seedstock or commercial operations. Awards will be given out in July 2015.

Applicants must be enrolled in a junior college, four-year college/university or other accredited institution for the fall of 2015.

They can be an entering freshman or a continuing student in any undergraduate program. The applicant or applicant's parents/guardians must have transferred or been transferred a registration paper in the last 36 months (on or after May 1, 2012).

Bull sales are abundant this time of year, and so are performance bull tests. The Angus Journal editorial staff keeps an updated list of central bull test stations on the Virtual Library at www.api-virtuallibrary.com/CentralBullTests. It lists tests by state, and provides test contact information, test on and off dates, required bull birth dates, and sale dates, plus additional information provided by the specific bull test.

From the Virtual Library homepage, the listing can be found under "Angus Resources." Hover over the "Industry" option in the drop-down list, and "Central Bull Test Stations" will be the first option.

MaternalPlus®

MaternalPlus is a voluntary, inventory-based reporting system designed to capture additional reproductive trait data and, ultimately, expand reproductive and lifetime productivity tools. By using MaternalPlus, producers will receive additional information at weaning processing time, including calving ease, birth weight and weaning weight EPDs for calves out of inventoried cows.

In addition, MaternalPlus allows producers to submit cow disposal codes and reason designations, which keeps an accurate record of why a cow left the herd.

To learn more about MaternalPlus, visit www.angus.org or AAA Login.

C designated for permanent ID in 2015

International letters are designated for each year of birth for livestock identification (ID). These designated letters are an easy option to use in conjunction with numbers when permanently identifying animals. For example, C001 and C002 could designate the first two calves born into your herd in the year 2015.

Using the international letter code is optional for Angus breeders.

For complete information about permanent ID (Rule 105) and naming animals (rules 102 and 107), access the online Breeder's Reference Guide. To access from www.angus.org, click on "Rules and Forms" in the pull-down menu under "About."
