BlackOnTrack!, the Angus Foundation biennial gala and auction Nov. 13, raised more than $330,000 in gross income to support the Angus Foundation's Vision of Value:

Campaign for Angus goal of raising $11 million by Dec. 31, 2011.

Hosted at the prestigious home of the Kentucky Derby, Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky., the magical night drew nearly 400 Angus supporters from across the country who gathered for fine dining, horse-racing entertainment, and a live auction featuring elite Angus genetics and other unique items.

Providing entertainment for the guests was the first-ever mock horse race, titled the Angus Steaks Race. Eight corporate entities sponsored horses to run in the mock race and dinner stations for event guests. The sponsors included: Boehringer Ingelheim Vetmedica, Igenity, Intrust Bank, Pfizer Animal Health, Superior Livestock, Sysco Specialty Meat Companies, Trans Ova Genetics and VitaFerm.

New to the Angus Foundation Gala and Auction was the Vision of Value: Elite Heifer Genetics Offering. Donating heifer genetics and also serving as the hosts of the evening were: 44 Farms of Texas, Basin Angus Ranch of Montana, Champion Hill of Ohio, Daltons on the Sycamore of Virginia, Deer Valley Farm of Tennessee, Evans Farms of Texas, Express Ranches of Oklahoma, Gardiner Angus Ranch of Kansas, SandPoint Cattle Co. of Nebraska, Schaff Angus Valley of North Dakota, Southern Cattle Co. of Florida, Sydenstricker Genetics of Missouri, Thomas Angus Ranch of Oregon, Three Trees Ranch of Georgia, Vintage Angus Ranch of California, and Wehrmann Angus of Virginia.

To provide leadership to the elite heifer genetics offering, a committee of Angus leaders was formed. Members were Ryan Cotton, Cotton & Associates; John Dickinson, Parnell-Dickinson; Rance Long, American Angus Hall of Fame; representing the Vision of Value: Campaign for Angus Leadership Cabinet, Dick Beck, Three Trees Ranch; Mark Gardiner, Gardiner Angus Ranch; and representing the Angus Foundation Board of Directors, Phil Trowbridge of Trowbridge Angus Farms.

Welcoming guests to the event, co-emcee Ryan Cotton stated, "On behalf of the Angus

Advance Partners

On Nov. 13, 2010, the original oil painting of "Advance" was presented by Blanford and Joan Pierce of Woodlawn Farms to the Angus Foundation in recognition of the achievement of Phase 1 of the "Advance Challenge," whereby the Advance Partners purchased 10 numbered, exact replicas of the painting, raising $25,000 for "Vision of Value: Campaign for Angus."

The Advance Partners include:

- The Goggins Family, Billings, Mont.
- Lone Oaks Farm, Middleton, Tenn.
- Belle Point Ranch, Lavaca, Ark.
- Ron Davidson, Creston, Ill.
- Curtis and Ann Long, Butler, Mo.
- Tom Burke, Smithville, Mo.
- 801 Chophouse, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska
- The Houston Family, Platteville, Colo.

The goal of Phase 2 of the fundraising project is to raise an additional $25,000 through the sale of a limited-edition of 50 numbered giclée prints.

►The event drew nearly 400 Angus supporters from across the country together for fine dining, racing entertainment, and a live auction featuring elite Angus genetics and other unique items.

Foundation, I'm honored to welcome you to this beautiful venue. With your support tonight, we will advance the future of the Angus breed by increasing the funds available to the Foundation's education, youth and research programs."

With donated auction items ranging from art to jewelry to exclusive trips to Angus collectibles, the live auction and trunk show raised more than $225,000.

Donated by Wehrmann Angus, Lot 13 of the Elite Genetics offering was the top-selling item. Half-interest in a bull pregnancy by GAR Progress and Rita 5M46 of 2536 PRED sold for $43,000 to Belle Point Ranch of Lavaca, Ark., and Express Ranches, Yukon, Okla. Wehrmann Angus will retain possession through weaning and yearling carcass scan collection.

"We're extremely grateful to the various Angus breeders and friends from across the country who supported the auction and other aspects of the event," said Milford Jenkins, Angus Foundation President. "We also wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to the dedicated team of volunteers who unselfishly invested an enormous amount of time and effort in making BlackOnTrack a success."

The event steering committee was led by co-chairs Julie McMahon French of Beaverton, Mich., and Wynn Dalton Herbers of Lynchburg, Va., and included Betsie Michaels of Staunton, Va.; Teresa Mrocka of Howell, Mich.; and Lynn Hill of Bidwell, Ohio.
