Angus enthusiasts tee up for the 10th Annual Golf Tournament.

Story & photos by Kelli Armbruster

With the scenic Rocky Mountains serving as the backdrop, 67 golfers enjoyed a day of golfing and Angus fellowship. Taking a break from the activities of the show, young and old golfers alike came out to support the Angus Foundation at its 10th Annual Golf Tournament, hosted at Coal Creek Golf Course in Louisville, Colo.

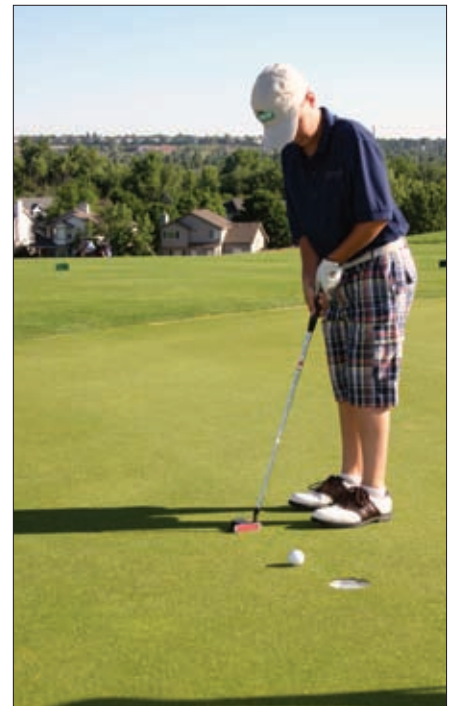

“Our 67 players enjoyed this beautiful, yet very challenging course, today. This year’s golf tournament was another successful fundraiser for the Angus Foundation,” said Angus Foundation President Milford Jenkins. “More than $14,400 was raised toward the Vision of Value: Campaign for Angus national fundraising effort for the Angus breed.”

After the completion of the tournament, the golfers were happy to return to the clubhouse to enjoy a Certified Angus Beef® (CAB®) steak lunch at the awards ceremony, compliments of Lombardi Bros. Meat Packers Inc., of Denver, Colo.

The winners of Flight A, representing South Dakota and Colorado, included players Scott Bush, Dick Rogen, Chris Styles and Jeff Creamer. Winners of Flight B, representing Colorado, Illinois and Florida, included players Paul Hill, Scott Anderson, Shane Anderson and Justin Adcock. Winners of Flight C, representing Maryland, included players Tim Clarke, Dave Brauning, Keith Donnelly and Myron Kennedy.
