Champions named at 2012 National Junior Angus Show.

More than 700 Angus juniors and their families traveled to Louisville, Ky., to compete in the 2012 National Junior Angus Show (NJAS) July 15-21 at the Kentucky Fair & Exposition Center. National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) members created “a League of Our Own” as they exhibited 1,080 entries during the weeklong event that included more than a dozen educational contests in addition to the cattle show.

Mark Johnson, Orlando, Okla., judged the 637 owned heifers; Jeff Gooden, Iberia, Mo., judged the 258 bred-and-owned (B&O) heifers, 50 cow-calf pairs, and 66 bulls; and Steve Reimer, Chamberlain, S.D., judged the 69 steers. Jason Duggin, Martin, Tenn., assisted in judging the owned heifers; and Rob Starkey, Greenfield, Ind., assisted in judging the B&O heifers and cow-calf pairs.

Cameron Ward, Plattsburg, Mo., captured grand champion B&O female honors with WB PVF Lucy

Satree named junior herdsman

A huge amount of effort went into the cattle at the National Junior Angus Show (NJAS), even before they entered the showing. Katy Satree, Montague, Texas, knows this well. She was recognized as the Junior Herdsman of the Year at the 2012 NJAS in Louisville, Ky., for her commitment to the Angus breed and the National Junior Angus Association (NJAA).

"It is an honor to be chosen by my fellow juniors," says Satree, who this year competed in her 12th NJAS. "Their recognition is truly humbling."

The Junior Herdsman of the Year award recognizes NJAA members who show dedication to their animals, a strong work ethic, ability to work with customers and other junior members, and skills to prepare their cattle for show.

Every junior exhibiting cattle at the NJAS is eligible to vote for the award winner. Throughout the week, they watch their peers and determine who they believe exemplifies qualities of the best junior herdsman.

Satree's years of showing Angus cattle have been successful. She has had many grand champions and has been recognized for the high-quality cattle she exhibits. But the Junior Herdsman award is a special honor of which Satree says she is very proud. She received a silver belt buckle, donated by the American Angus Association, at the NJAS closing ceremonies July 20. She will be attending Texas Tech University in the fall, majoring in animal science.
