Livestock Marketeers Hall of Fame Increases by Six

Association Regional Manager Chuck Grove honored.

The Livestock Marketeers — an informal fraternity of livestock fieldmen, auctioneers, sale managers and related livestock business leaders — met for their 44th Annual Banquet in conjunction with the 2009 National Western Stock Show (NWSS) in Denver, Colo., Jan. 17.

Honorees included auctioneer C.K. “Sonny” Booth, Miami, Okla., and American Angus Association Regional Manager Chuck Grove, Forest, Va. They were “roasted” by their friends and colleagues at the event, which was hosted by American Live Stock Inc., Geneva, Ill. Master of ceremonies was Neil Orth, executive vice president of the American-International Charolais Association.

Four posthumous honorees were also added to the Hall of Fame display that hangs in the National Western Club, on a special plaque provided by Crow Publications, Denver, Colo. They are Bobby Baker, Don Eiten, Terry Jaschke and Lee McCoy.

The Livestock Marketeers group was started in 1965 by Harry Green, Ross Miller and Claud Willett. Their purpose was to form a fraternal organization of livestock professionals, and to make annual awards in order to stimulate younger members of the industry to succeed in their chosen profession.

For the past 34 years, Grove has served the American Angus Association as a regional manager, representing the Angus breed in Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee, and previously the states of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Grove works closely with the Association and Angus Productions Inc. (API), publisher of the Angus Journal and Angus Beef Bulletin, assisting purebred and commercial breeders in selling and obtaining quality seedstock, advertising and promoting their programs, and working as a liaison promoting programs and services provided by the Association and its entities. Grove also managed the National Western Angus Bull Sale, the only Association-sponsored sale, for 23 years.

“He is truly the undisputed dean of the fieldmen,” said Matt Caldwell, also a regional manager for the Association. “We applaud your professionalism and your friendship.”

Grove’s involvement in the Angus business goes back to his youth, as he was raised on his family’s registered Angus farm. As an active 4-H and FFA member, he represented Virginia on the 4-H livestock judging team and at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Ill., and he served as a director of the Virginia Junior Angus Association (VJAA).

At Virginia Tech, Grove was an active member of the Alpha Gamma Rho (AGR) fraternity and Block & Bridle club. He was employed as a student beef cattle herdsman for Virginia Tech’s beef farm and fit numerous champions for the university. He was a member of the winning Virginia Tech livestock judging team.

Shortly after graduating from college in 1974, Grove married Ruth.

Together they raised two children, Jake and Rachel, who were also active in the VJAA.

“I am very honored and humbled,” said Grove, who recognized his mentor, Dale Runion, during his acceptance of the Hall of Fame honor. “I appreciate this award very much.”
