

ANGUS PRODUCTIONS INC.

Our goal is to serve the individual needs of members by offering a variety of services exclusively through Angus Productions Inc. (API).

The Angus Journal, with a circulation of 17,000, is the official publication of the American Angus Association and the major source of communication between breeders and their Association. It is the only Angus publication that reaches the more than 3,000 new American Angus Association members gained each year.

The Angus Beef Bulletin, with a circulation of more than 83,000, is a no-frills tabloid newspaper sent to a list of commercial Angus buyers who have purchased and had Angus cattle transferred to their names. (This list is used exclusively by the Angus Beef Bulletin.) Designed to give the commercial Angus producer an edge, editorial content offers information on management, production, genetics and marketing from leaders in the industry.

API's Special Services Department helps with breeders' special promotional needs, such as sale books and brochures to promote farms, sales or Angus seedstock. With direct access to Association performance data, the department's staff can create and design marketing pieces for top-of-mind awareness. Special Services staff can also access specific mailing areas or a nationwide mailing list to best meet your marketing needs.

API's Web Services Department can help Angus breeders, associations, feedlots and others promote their businesses globally. Online marketing services available include Web site design, updating and hosting; online sale books; Angus e-Classifieds; banner ads; and Angus e-List ads. The department also provides real-time coverage of Angus and industry events. Go to www.angusjournal.com/realtime to see a list of current and archived events.

In addition to viewing current and archived articles of the Angus Journal, producers can sign up for an opt-in news service, the Angus e-List, on the Angus Journal home page. Subscribers receive industry news and weekly updates of Angus events.

www.angusphotos.com is designed to help distribute some of the most-used scans of individual animals and to provide show exhibitors a way to proof and order API photos of their winning entries.

To find out more about API's services, visit our Web sites at www.angusjournal.com, www.angusbeefbulletin.com and www.angusproductions.com.
